The Barrel company at Point Pleasant expect before long to turn out 5,000 barrels per day.

Hon. J. T. Hox, formerly a member of our West Virginia Legislature, is a candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney, on the Republican ticket, Fairfax county, Va.

The Williamsburg, Va., lunatic asylum was opened on the 12th of October, 1778—one hundred years ago. It is the oldest institution of the kind in America, and old as any but one in Europe.

REAL ESTATE in Washington, D. C., that could not be sold at ten cents a foot four years ago, cannot now be bought for seventy-five cents a foot, and much has risen even higher.

The Jackson County News says that since last Fall two hundred families have moved into that county, and the number that will come in this Fall will not fall short of that number.

Now that the river is so low the Parkersburg Times says what the people down there, especially the poor, are to do for coal. To get it from Clarksburg by rail is expensive.

SENATOR H. G. Davis has returned from the conference held by the Senate Committee in New York, in reference to the James river and Kanawha improvement. We are not advised what conclusions the committee reached.

KANAWHA LANDS.—The Huntington Argus says: In the last three months there has been no less than three millions of dollars worth of real estate sold on the Kanawha. The enterprising minds of both continents are attracted to its vast worth and mineral wealth.

The Parkersburg Times believes in grapes as wholesome food, and says that the peasantry of Spain, France and Italy make many a satisfying meal in that way, and of the wholesomeness of the diet there can be no doubt. Medical men constantly recommend the use of grapes for their patients.

A WASHINGTON paper tells all about the story of President Grant's "little tin box" and his bank account at the First National Bank in that city. When the bank closed the President had overdrawn his account $71, which amount he has since paid to the receiver. He had no special deposit to his credit. The tin box mentioned was in the bank of Jay Cooke & Co., and in addition to the private papers belonging to the President, it contained the Rawlins bonds, which he held in trust. That's the long and short of it, according to the Washington Chronicle.

THE Moundsville National has a way of its own that we should think would excite an interest in the paper on the part of the Moundsville people. In the first place the editor says that to "manage a village newspaper in a country so changeable and unlettered as this" (meaning W. Va.) "is no small matter," and next that "Gravo Creek is the deepest place on earth for one to do business in." Much as the editor dislikes to say this he nevertheless feels called upon to give it as his opinion "that for a village of 400 people, it is the dullest point on the Ohio river. Once in a while a goose can be seen in the road, and frequently bones protrude through the skin of a hog. Verily, Moundsville is a sweet place to live."STEPHEN'S OVERCOAT.—A published statement that Hon. Alexander H. Stephen recently lost one of his overcoats at Dahlone, Georgia, has moved the Augusta Constitutional to relate the following:

"This paragraph reminds us of an anecdote about Mr. Stephens which General Gordon tells with muchunction. Gordon had it from President Grant, at Washington. 'When the three commissioners met us at Fortress Monroe,' says Grant, 'Mr. Stephens came swaddled up from top to toe in an enormous overcoat. Lincoln called me aside as Mr. Stephens was dressing, and observed, 'Grant, what does that performance of Stephens remind you of?' I answered him, 'Mr. President, I do not know, but what does it remind you of?' With one of his queer winks, Lincoln said: 'It reminds me of the biggest stuck of the smallest ear I ever saw in all my life!'

A Curious Document.

The West county Labor Vindicator must be a peculiar sort of paper, for one bearing its title, judging from the following notice in the Woodfield (O.) Democrat:WOODFIELD, MONROE CO., O.
October 6, 1873.

To the Honorable Postmaster General of the United States:

Sir:—As friends of decency we write to inform you that a profane and obscene paper, called the Labor Vindicator, is published in New Martinsville, Wetzel county, West Virginia, and that the postmaster at that point permits it to pass through the mail. We believe, from your well known record, you will do what you can to suppress it. We would like to hear from you or one of your Secretaries in regard to the matters.

We will send you the latest issue.

Washington and Jefferson College Corner Stone Laying.

The ceremony of laying the corner stone of the new building of the Washington and Jefferson College at Washington, Pennsylvania, will take place at 12 o'clock on Tuesday, October 21st. The address of the occasion will be delivered by Hon. John Scott, of Huntington, Pa., United States Senator; Hon. Cyrus D. Pershing, Pittsburg, Pa.; Jefferson, 1848; and John H. Hampton, Esq., Pittsburgh, Pa., Washington, 1847. Trains, with tickets at excursion rates, will leave Pittsburgh at 8:30 A.M., and Steubenville, Ohio, and Wheeling at 7 A.M. The parties can return the same day. The Committee of Arrangements consists of Rev. J. I. Brownson, C. M. Reed, and Dr. George P. Hay. We notice that the Pittsburgh City Council has accepted the invitation, and passed a resolution to be present at the corner-stone ceremonies.

THE Martinsburg Statesman, a Democratic paper, speaks thus unkindly of the candidate of its party for the Presidency last year:

The project to mould Horace Greeley out of old type to be contributed by the printers of the country does not seem to meet with much favor, judging from the small quantity subscribed for the purpose. It is no use to attempt canonizing a devil into a saint!

IRON ORE.—We are informed that a vein of iron ore was discovered in the outskirts of Glen Gaston, some time last winter. A piece of the ore was found on the surface of the ground, which eventually led to the disclosure. It is considered of a quality ranking among the best in this country. Such good luck as this is an item to the mineral wealth of this country.—Moundville National.
